

Student Success Fellowship
2014-15

The Student Success Fellowship is designed to positively impact student success and address the Success by Design Strategic Framework. One-time funds will be available to support projects proposed by faculty that are aligned with the major college initiatives.

6. Proposal Review Process:

The Associate Dean of the College of Arts & Sciences or a representative serves as chair for the preliminary review committee.

- a) Preliminary review: A committee of faculty from the College of Arts & Sciences reviews award proposals. Using project selection criteria noted below, the committee makes award recommendations to the Dean of Arts & Sciences. Committee members may not also be project award applicants.
- b) Final review: The Dean of Arts & Sciences reviews award proposals and preliminary review committee recommendations and then determines awards.

7. Proposal Selection Criteria:

You will strengthen your proposal significantly by clearly addressing all the following essential criteria:

- a) Clarity of the project purpose and expected outcomes and their potential significance.
- b) Review of the literature and use of evidence-based practices.
- c) Clarity and appropriateness of project plan.
- d) Documented qualifications of faculty (and possibly students) to engage in this particular project.
- e) Feasibility of successfully completing the project within the estimated timeframe.
- f) Alignment with the NKU Success by Design Strategic Framework.
- g) Appropriateness of budget requests.
- h) Sustainability/scalability plans.
- i) Plans for assessment and dissemination of results/outcomes.
